

I believe the no-call rules should be made stronger. Politicians, political campaigns and not-for-profit organization should be forbidden from calling people on the no-call list.

To make the rules more liberal would be counter productive.